

Address: 126 Mornington Street

Legal Description: Lot 2, Plan 54

Designation By-law: 22-2011

By-Law Designation Date: March 14, 2011

Date of Construction: 1879

Architectural Style: Italianate

Architectural Description: two storey yellow brick with raised brick at the corners of the house and decorative dentil brick work under the eaves; hipped roof with small central gable; the roof is supported by decorative brackets; first floor; rectangular two over two paned windows with shutters on either side of the door; brick pilasters on either side of the door; centre door case is wide and may be a later feature; it has a flat fluted column on either side set on a rectangular base and a flat capital on top; a broken pediment with a finial is at the top of the door case; a transom in stained glass with the number 126 in the centre ; a single paned side light on either side with a wood panel below each one; the outline of a porch roof can be seen on the brick work; second floor; three rectangular windows with two panes over two panes and with shutters; centre gable; decorative cut out wood work; round window with curved brick voussoirs over top of it; two windows the same as the front of the house in each storey on either side of a chimney; the second floor right hand window is closed by a shutter

J. G. Hess, a customs collector, for Stratford lived in the house. James Cardwell Makins, later Judge Makins also lived here.